TRAINING

Working with Alex on this design, the goal was to deliver the perfect fit thus becoming his “go-to” glove for racing

Alex described this style as “amazing”. Synergy of function and fit so the athlete can focus on the challenge ahead without the distraction of uncomfortable hands or inconsistent grip. Ready to race!

Alex best described this as his normal training gloves, but then we have to ask ourselves what is considered normal for a world class athlete? Material selection is key to the full wrap of the hand delivering the desired fit and comfort for the athlete.

Alex selected this model as his primary training glove, designed to be pushed to the limits. Delivering the Auclair fit & comfort while performing as one with Alex during his intense training sessions.
